

First Health Unit To Get Under Way In Butler County

Action Precedes Similar Setup For Bucks Area

Butler County, in which the State Health Department operated a kind of a "pilot plant" county health department of the sort soon to be established in Bucks County, will set up its own county health unit Monday.

International News Service reports from Harrisburg that the opening of the Butler County department will be officially observed some time in February at a ceremony to be attended by Health Secretary Russell E. Teague and Gov. John S. Fine.

The unit represents the first step in a move approved by the 1951 legislature to decentralize Pennsylvania's public health program, in accordance with a national trend since 1911.

Operating clinics in preventive medicine to be set up include tuberculosis, venereal disease and child health.

Only one other county—Bucks—has approved the plan.

Northampton County rejected the program in a referendum last Nov. 3.

Under the 1951 law, local health departments may be established by resolution of the County Board of Commissioners, as in Bucks, or by a referendum, as in Butler, or by a referendum, as in Bucks.

State aid is to be extended to the local units on a matching basis with the Commonwealth making available up to 75 cents a year per person.

Local health officers must qualify with the State Department's Health Advisory Board and personnel are to be hired under a general merit system.

Seize Stolen Car After Driver Flees Penn Valley Road

A stolen car was recovered last night after its driver left a service station on Lincoln Highway near City Line without paying for a tankful of gas.

Alerted by state police, who said the gasoline the motorist bought at Beniff's Service Station was not paid for, Chief Franklin Kirby and his entire force searched the township.

The officers spotted the car driving east on Route 12, Chief Kirby said, and followed, turning right into Penn Valley road, a dead-end lane. Forced to the side of the road, the driver fled from the car and ran into the woods, Chief Kirby said. He was not found.

The police took the car to headquarters, where it was identified as stolen in Jenkintown yesterday from Mrs. Margaret Rolinski, of 26 Stout avenue, Trenton, N. J.

Theft Suspect, 19, Held Without Bail

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Anthony Niccol for larceny, burglary and receiving stolen goods from Great Eastern Motors, Dec. 23, Seth Smith, 19, of Philadelphia, last night pleaded guilty and was held without bail for the grand jury.

Smith, who escaped police pursuit, took 19 inspection stickers, police said.

Officer Vincent Faragalli arrested him in a printing shop Wednesday after recognizing his fancy-trimmed black jacket.

NEW EARTH TREMORS FELT NEAR READING

READING, Pa. (INS)—New earth tremors were felt Friday night by about 700 residents of Sinking Spring near Reading. They followed similar tremors felt over a wide area Thursday.

Seismologists said the new shocks were "after-shocks."

All of the shocks Friday night were of lesser intensity than those which shook homes in scores of communities Thursday.

Tax Collector Says Township Rolls Are Easily Over 20,000

Bristol Township Tax Collector Robert Cameron today told a committee of the Township Civic Association he thinks township population has easily exceeded 20,000 which would qualify the commissioners to raise their salaries to $1200 a year.

Meeting in his Newportville office with Mrs. Betty Gough and Mrs. Carrie Fischer, of the Association's executive board, Cameron estimated that the population is now 24,000. Cameron said his last figures, of August 31, 1953, listed 14,142 adults paying occupational taxes, but said the inclusion of children, plus persons who have moved into the township in the past four months, with persons the tax assessors may have overlooked would put the figure well over 20,000.

A Bristol township school census taken in September, 1952, set the population at 18,330, Cameron said, estimating that persons missed would bring the total to 18,500 at that time.

Challenges Estimates
The commissioners, who have been receiving $600 a year, can raise their pay to $1200 a year if the population has reached 20,000, it was explained, but the civic group is challenging estimates that the population has reached that figure.

The new boards, at their organization meeting Monday, voted to raise salaries for new members to $1200, while retaining the $600 scale for old commissioners.

I. Louis Rubin, newly-appointed township solicitor, said he has not yet studied the matter, as "other things come first, such as appointment of officers, the yearly budget and fixing of taxes." Pointing out that the commissioners are not to receive their first quarterly pay until March, Rubin said:

"We'll have plenty of time to study the matter. Until March rolls around, however, we must first concentrate on more important matters."

The president of the Civic Association, Charles Phillips, of 6 Venice avenue, said today he thought the raise was deserved, but that there seemed to be some objection to the manner in which the pay increase was brought up at the commissioners' first meeting.

"I think the present $600 a year is very low," Phillips said. "However, when the commissioners ran for office in November, they knew what the salary was."

He said the salary-raise idea is "nothing new," as the commissioners at one time were drawing $200 a year.

According to Elwood Britton, former secretary of the commissioners, the last official census

Old Issue Rises; It's Smoky Dump In Bristol Twp.

But Stutz Says Fumes Are From Christmas Trees

The charge that offensive smoke once again is coming from the Bristol township dump, in spite of a landfill system recently put in effect there, was made today by Charles Phillips, president of the Bristol Township Civic Association, whose home, at 6 Venice avenue, is near the Beaver Dam road dump site.

"The old board of commissioners, around election time, seemed to be doing a good job of controlling the dump and disposing of rubbish," Phillips said. "But fires have burned there almost steadily since Christmas."

Commissioner Eugene Stutz, chairman of the township road committee, said he has been forced to burn old Christmas trees there, as they are too bulky to bury underground without considerable excavation. He estimated that it would cost an additional $200 to make room underground for the discarded evergreens.

Burn Fast, Little Smoke
"The Christmas trees burn fast and don't make much smoke," Stutz said. "They are put in a special pile so the flames will not make contact with other rubbish."

Stutz added that the dump is constantly watched so that no mischief makers can set the rubbish on fire. A wire fence will soon be erected around the site, he said.

Most of the discarded Christmas trees, Stutz said, are collected in Levittown by O'Connor and Co. Visitors Impressed

A visiting delegation of the Parkside council viewed the township dump last week and were favorably impressed, he said.

Phillips said he or representatives of the Bristol Township Civic Association will ask the commissioners to continue the strict regulation of the dump that he said existed in the fall.

In the new fire, Phillips said, smoke blows over his property, impregnating laundry on clothes

Mapping The Plans

Croydon Joins Campaign For Korean Clothes, Food

Frank W. Slowick 617 State street, Croydon, was appointed chairman today of the entire Croydon area for the Korean clothing and food drive, sponsored by the Bristol and Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce.

Slowick, a realtor, is contacting all organizations in his community to participate in the drive for usable clothing for people of all ages, and for non-perishable food. Slowick will use his real estate office as a collection point.

The clothing will be taken from there, at the end of the drive, to Harman, where it will be transported to the Frankford Arsenal for shipment overseas. Materials collected will be sent to Capt. John J. Cole, stationed in Korea, who requested, in a letter to THE DAILY COURIER, that the drive be organized to help alleviate the privation suffered by Koreans of all ages.

Arthur Pilla, chairman of the drive, appointed by Edward Nebauer, president of the Bristol and Lower Bucks Chamber, is sending And there's one more thing that two sets of letters out today in connection with the drive. One set of letters is going to proposed leaders in each community, asking for them to take charge of affairs in their particular localities. A final list of chairmen for each area will be published Monday.

The second set of letters is notifying schools, churches, scouting groups, fire companies and other organizations exactly what is needed by the Koreans, as well as the background of the drive.

In his letters, Pilla states that many different types of things are needed. "Many people think the drive will be just for baby clothes, but all types of clothing are what we need."

Pilla listed adult clothing, children's clothing, under-clothing, blankets, hose, shoes and anything else usable and wearable.

Baby foods, vitamins, non-perishable foods and CARE packages are also needed. The Koreans have so little, and can buy nothing, that the drive is expected to get under way the early part of next week, Pilla said.

Protest Is Filed By String Band

Marshal Will Hear Weller Next Week

A formal protest over assignment of last position to the Bucks County String Band in the Philadelphia Mummers parade on New Year's Day has been filed with Recreation Commissioner Frederick R. Mann, parade grand marshal.

Frank Weller, band captain, who filed the protest, said yesterday that Mann is out of town, but he has agreed to meet with him "sometime next week" to hear the details of the complaint.

The band was disqualified by the judges because it took five minutes and eight seconds for drill in front of the judges' stand instead of the allotted four minutes.

Says Band Wasn't Warned
Weller has charged that the band was not warned that their time was running out. He asserted that the other bands were warned a minute before their time was up.

Magistrate Elias Myers, the parade director, said, when informed of Weller's protest:

"We are not required by the rules to give any warning to the bands, but we do one minute before the time limit expires."

Myers explained that a warning is given to one of the end men in the band and he is supposed to pass it along to the rest of the band.

"That warning was given to every band, including the Greater Bucks County unit," he said.

"Knew Before Hand"
"Even if that warning had not been given," Myers said, "Every band captain knew before hand that he had no more than four minutes to drill before the judges. Weller knew the rules and should have arranged his drill ahead of time to last no more than four minutes—all other captains did so, without any difficulty whatsoever."

Mrs. George Ranes, an interior decorator and one of the three judges in the string band division, said she "remembered distinctly" hearing a timekeeper say that Weller's band drilled for "exactly five minutes and eight seconds."

She pointed out that under the rules the judges had no choice but to rank the Greater Bucks Band in last place.

Warden To Present Chair To Hospital
Maj. Walter Tees, warden of Eastern Penitentiary, Philadelphia will present a wheel chair to Bristol General Hospital at 11 a. m. tomorrow, according to C. A. Harmon, hospital administrator.

Maj. Tees will present the chair in appreciation of the treatment given his grandson, six-year-old Frank, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Tees, 410 Girard avenue, Croydon.

Frank, Jr., was a patient in Bristol General Hospital in September, when he was treated for a broken arm.

Key Witness Vanishes In Reuther Shooting

DETROIT—INS — Detroit and Wayne county authorities admitted today their case against four conspirators in the six-year - old Walter Reuther shooting case has collapsed with the disappearance of their star witness.

Wayne County Detroit Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien said the witness, whom he flatly refused to identify, eluded guards in a downtown hotel suite, where he was taken for safekeeping, about 10:45 a. m. Friday.

An attorney released O'Brien later Friday, that the informant was in Canada but that some word might be expected of his whereabouts today.

Central Figure
O'Brien declared: "Without this witness, we have no case against the four men we accused of shooting Walter Reuther."

"If he does not return to testify, our only course is to dismiss the present defendants and extradite our witness, if we can find him, and try him as a conspirator."

O'Brien labeled the missing informant the central figure in cracking the shot-gun assassination attempt against Reuther, then newly-re-elected president of the CIO-United Auto Workers Union. Reuther was to succeed the late Phil Murray as president of the CIO.

May Drop Warrants
O'Brien said he might be forced to drop warrants issued earlier this week against Santo Sam Per-

Youth, 19, Begins Second Sentence In Re-Parole Action

DOYLESTOWN — Thomas F. Vaughn, 19-year-old father of two children, of Newportville, was granted a re-parole by Judge Edward G. Biester on Friday in Quarter Sessions Court to begin serving his second sentence of not less than three months nor more than a year in the County Prison.

In 1952 the defendant was sentenced to serve from two to 23 months in the County Prison on a burglary charge.

On June 26, 1953, Judge Biester sentenced Vaughn to serve the balance of his parole and after that his three months to a year sentence would begin.

Vaughn, who has been in trouble since 1949, violated his parole June 4, 1953, when he was arrested by the Bristol Police Department and charged with turning off lights to avoid identification.

A Bristol patrolman testified that several motorists were racing through town at night and had passengers in the cars who made a noise and created a disturbance.

When the Bristol police patrol cars followed, Vaughn, who was operating one of the cars, turned the lights off to avoid being apprehended.

Vaughn was in trouble with the Bristol police department in 1949 when he was charged with suspicion and placed on probation for 12 months.

In 1952 he was arrested for assault and battery, found not guilty and discharged.

'EXCELLENT STATEMENT'

Rep. King Praises Ike's Message; Likes Middle-of-Road Program

President Eisenhower's "State of the Union" address to Congress on Thursday was warmly applauded by Rep. Karl C. King, (R) Bucks and Lehigh Counties, Pennsylvania.

"It was an excellent statement," King said, "of past accomplishments and future plans of the Republican Administration."

"The highlights of accomplishments noted," he continued, "were that 'our sons no longer die on distant mountains of Korea,' that federal employees and expenditures have been reduced, taxes are down and the budget reduced, that our defensive ability has been strengthened and leadership initiative assured."

"The plans for the future promise further reduction in foreign economic aid, elimination of arbitrary restraints on foreign trade, the loss of citizenship for Communists, further reduction in the budget, complete revision of our tax system and a sound approach to the problems created by subsidized production.

"The President made a very realistic statement of the situation now existing under laws which have stimulated production of basic agricultural products far beyond possible demand and loaded the Federal Government with six billion dollars worth of these products.

"His solution of the farm surplus problem, while not perfect in detail, is essentially the Benson program of flexibility in support prices so that agriculture can be gradually returned to a free economy where the market price has its proper influence on production volume.

"The President's program is generally so down the middle of the road, so it should have broad support on both sides of the aisle."

Clergy To Hear Laymen Discuss Area's Problems

2-Hour Program To Feature Talks, Question Period

Lower Bucks County clergymen will be brought up to date on area expansion and change at a special meeting at the First Presbyterian Church, Morrisville on Thursday.

Sponsored by the Philadelphia Council of Churches, the two hour program, beginning at 10 a.m., will be a dramatic presentation of population increases, school needs, housing demands, highway and zoning planning, health and welfare services and social work.

Franklin Wood, director of the Bucks County Planning Commission will set up an exhibit and present facts about population trends, housing programs and highway plans as proposed by the commission.

To Tell of Plans

John W. Eckberry, counsel for the Danherst Corp., will present the future plans of Fairless Hills and Alex Pollett, public relations representative of Levitt and Sons, will discuss the Levittown program.

Mrs. Lela H. Durand, executive secretary of the Family Service of Lower Bucks County, will describe the health and welfare program for the area. She will draw upon her own experience in the field to illustrate needs in the county.

School problems and plans will be outlined by Dr. Charles H. Boehm, Bucks county superintendent of schools. Representatives from the YMCA and the YWCA have been invited to attend.

Quiz Sited

There will be a question and answer period following the talks, when the ministers will have an opportunity to obtain further insight into the potential of Lower Bucks County.

John Haiko, secretary-director of the Council's Department of Research and Planning in announcing the program said, "Everyone who attends ought to get in this short space of time, a concentrated account of the future developments under way."

"This program is crammed with the best available authorities, in their fields, in Lower Bucks County. An excellent attendance is expected. It is open to all and to Lower Bucks County ministers especially."

Levittown Church Plans To Observe Seminary Sunday

The First Presbyterian Church of Levittown will observe Seminary Sunday tomorrow, according to the Rev. Robert J. Thomson, pastor of the church.

The need for new leaders, as trained by the nine Presbyterian seminaries in the country will be discussed by Rev. Thomson. He will also outline the work of the seminaries, the courses taken and who is eligible to attend.

Part of this Sunday's collection will be sent for the use of the Presbyterian seminaries in this country.

Seminary Sunday will be observed at both the 8:30 a.m. and the 11 a.m. services. The sacrament of baptism will be administered at the 11 a.m. service.

RICKENBACKER NAMED 'BIG BROTHER OF YEAR'

PHILADELPHIA, (INS) — Appointment of Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker as "Big Brother of the Year" was announced today.

Charles G. Berwind, president of Big Brothers of America, cited Captain Rickenbacker "in recognition of the inspiration that his life is to all of us and for his outstanding service in behalf of youth which best exemplifies the spirit and objectives of the Big Brother movement."

The presentation will be made by President Eisenhower, at the White House next Tuesday, Berwind said.

Obituary

THE REV. MARTIN J. HAYDEN

The Rev. Martin J. Hayden, C. S. Sp., assistant rector at St. Peter Claver's Church, 12th and Lombard streets, Philadelphia, since 1949, died Friday in St. Agnes Hospital, Philadelphia, after two-year illness.

Father Hayden, age 47, will be buried at the junior seminary in Cornwall Heights. He entered the Holy Ghost Fathers Junior Seminary in September, 1925. Ordained to the priesthood at St. Mary's Seminary, Norwalk, Conn. in 1934, the following year he went to Kilimanjaro, British East Africa, and served there until 1945. He returned to the United States and served in Sacred Heart Church, Lake Charles, La., for a year, and for another year in St. Ann's Church, Millvale, Pa. From 1947 to 1949, he was with a parish in Okmulgee, Okla.

Father Hayden is survived by two brothers, John J. and Joseph Hayden, Jr.; and three sisters, Mrs. Madeline O'Neill, Miss Anna Marie Hayden and Mrs. Elizabeth Barlow.

A viewing will be held at Our Lady of Blessed Sacrament on Sunday evening and another viewing will be at St. Peter Claver's Monday evening. Solemn requiem mass will be sung at St. Peter Claver's. Burial arrangements are being made by the William I. Murphy Estate funeral home, Bristol.

In thirteen of our State Park and Forest areas there are 200 cabins that can be rented at a nominal fee.

Danes Get Cautious, See Things Again

COPENHAGEN — (INS) — Fishermen from the small Danish island of Langeland are examining their nets carefully these days for prehistoric monsters.

Agence France Presse said it all started when some fishermen brought up a huge bone, weighing over 200 pounds. Experts at the Copenhagen Natural History Museum said they believed the bone was part of the upper forelimb of a mammoth, a giant beast which once roamed the earth.

Now the fishermen are casting their nets in the same area, hoping to bring up other parts of the mammoth's skeleton.

A New Start!

Yes, there are many who make a new start at the beginning of the year. They resolve to do better and to change their ways. But the new start will slip back into the old ways unless one finds the help of God—and starts again with him. Plan to attend church regularly where you'll find help and faith to live up to your new start. You'll find a Welcome—"Where Friendly People Meet!"

Ike Is Expected To Go Slow With Mortgage Plans

WASHINGTON, (INS) — Housing experts are predicting that President Eisenhower will modify a proposal that the government quit buying and selling home mortgages to support home building.

The recommendation was advanced by the Presidential Committee headed by Housing Chief Albert M. Cole as a move to cut federal spending and get the government out of the mortgage buying business.

Officials familiar with the problem say the chief executive's action on this heated housing issue may decide whether home production heads upward or takes a slight slide in 1954.

Boomed Building
Four years ago, Congress gave the government a virtually unlimited green-light to buy home mortgages and this was partly responsible for the greatest production year in history.

Because of this, the experts are betting Mr. Eisenhower will delay action on the Cole proposal until there is clear evidence the nation is not experiencing a business recession.

Under the set-up, home builders in a pinch for ready cash for new projects have been able to sell their GI and Federal Housing Administration loans to the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fanny Mae), which borrows its funds from the treasury.

Regulations Tightened
Recently, however, Fanny Mae's regulations have been considerably tightened but the association still owns 342,511 home mortgages worth nearly 2.5 billion dollars.

To stem the flow of federal dollars into the operation, the Cole group proposed the selling of all the association's loans and creation of a new agency drawing its capital from private sources.

This drew a sharp attack from Richard G. Hughes, a Pampa, Tex., home builder member of the committee, who warned such a set-up "will only serve to reduce the volume of mortgage lending, to tend towards increasing of down payments, to shorten mortgage maturities and have a tendency to increase interest rates."

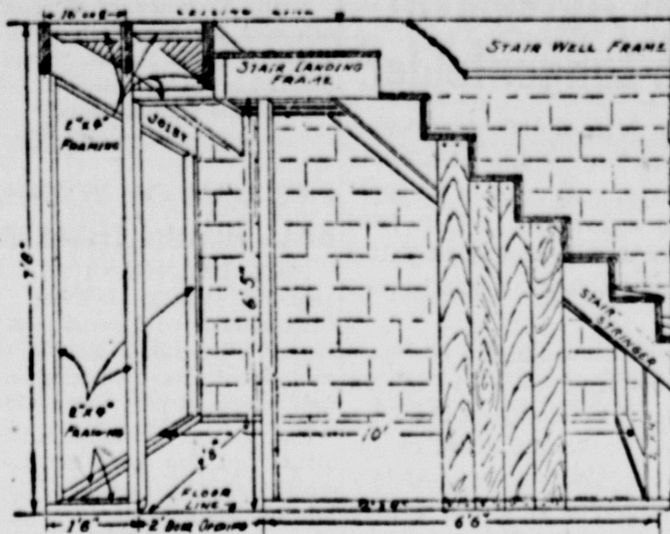

Foresees Risk
Hughes, first vice president of the National Association of Home Builders, also said the plan entails "grave risk to the mortgage lending industry and to the continuance of a healthy home building industry."

The Texas said he favored creation of a new agency that would gradually swing over to a privately financed set-up. During the transition, he said, federal funds should be used and mortgages owned by Fanny Mae should be sold slowly without hurting the market.

Experts who have scanned the report believe that Hughes' arguments are receiving serious study because a business recession might force the government to revive Fanny Mae to spur the economy.

The feeling is the President, in submitting his housing program to Congress, will "go slow" on liquidating Fanny Mae and the House and Senate will take a similar view.

HERE'S HOW . . . BUILD A CLOSET UNDER BASEMENT STAIRS

Storage space under the basement stairs can be provided by using the construction already in place. With a minimum of additional framing and paneling, a neat and attractive "extra room" is added.

A frame of 2x1's is made to fit beneath the stairs as shown in the drawing. The dimensions will depend upon the height of the basement and stair landing, but these are typical.

By building the frame flush with the outside edge of the stair stringer, the stringer may be used to hold the wood paneling. Closet frame members are toe-nailed to the joists and stair framing.

Tongue and grooved boards, if used for paneling, will provide a dustproof closet. Or, if plain boards are used, the closet may be lined. As a further precaution against dust, unevenness between the stairs and landing and the basement wall should be caulked.

At the lower end of the stairs, the closet should be 30 inches high. The space between this end and the bottom step may be used as a small closet, with its own door, or left open for miscellaneous storage.

Capehart Backs Huge Subsidy On Low-Cost Homes

WASHINGTON—INS — Senator Homer Capehart (R) Indiana, has proposed a one billion dollar low-cost housing program to step up production of new homes for low-income families.

The chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency committee which has jurisdiction over housing legislation said the suggestion was not a concrete proposal but something to stimulate thinking about the problem.

He made the recommendation Friday at a national CIO housing conference.

"Long Worried"
Capehart said he had been worried about the plight of citizens who could not afford either a down payment on a home or "the high rents they are forced to pay today."

Capehart disapproved past programs under which public housing has been built with Federal subsidies for rent to low-income families. He said it would be better to help such families finance their own homes.

"We could go into it on, say, a billion-dollar basis figuring on losing 200 or 300 million," Capehart said.

Capehart said encouraging home ownership among low income citizens would be a good investment against any spread of Communism.

7 L'Town Homes Sold By Halperin During Month

J. Halperin and Co. of Pennsylvania, at the Shopping Center, Levittown, reports from its real estate department that seven homes were sold by them for the original owners during December. The prices ranged from $9,600 to $12,250.

Properties transferred were at One Arch lane for Guernio F. Carnivale; 39 Morning Glory lane from Charles M. Jackson to Frank Agresta; 20 Pensive lane from Peter Anthony Finn to Joseph C. Carfagno; 109 Pinewood drive from John G. Musselman to Harold L. Kerper; 44 Ridge lane from Paul J. Harbitt to Nicholas Sprignoli; 41 Spring lane from John R. Rogers to Leon C. Greene; 70 Thornapple lane from Milton Lazoff to Eric L. Hiltz.

Sees 50,000 Color TV Sets This Year

NEW YORK (INS) — A noted TV expert estimates that 50,000 color television sets will be produced in 1954, and will sell for about $1,000 each.

Dr. Allen B. DuMont says the high costs for color tubes, circuits and components will force the high price on first color TV sets.

He predicted that within three or four years, 21-inch color sets may be available for about $500 each. But Dr. DuMont doubts if prices of color TV sets can match those of black-and-white sets for many years to come.

REALTOR CHIEF INSTALLED

HARRISBURG—INS — Ben G. Wetsel, of Harrisburg, was installed Friday as president of the State Realtors Association and called for support of a proposed private slum clearance program.

Wetsel said slums "cannot be remedied by public housing or large government subsidies, but can be corrected more quickly by the efforts of free men working under a free enterprise system."

Pre-Cut Houses Built By Penndel Company

The pre-cut house is one answer to the high cost of building, an answer that is gaining in popularity in Lower Bucks County.

A pre-cut house differs from a pre-fabricated house in that it is not put together until it reaches the site. Each piece is cut to size in the factory and numbered where it will go in the finished house.

A pre-fabricated house is bolted together in sections before it leaves the factory and only the final assembly takes place at the site. The inside finish of the building is included in the original pieces. In a pre-cut house, plastering or the installation of plywood on the inside must be done after the house is built.

40 Days to Finish
Two Penndel men, Anthony Rissini and Robert Rothenbach, partners in Penndel Builders Supply Co., have developed a pre-cut house in their lumber yard on the Lincoln highway.

"It takes about 40 days to finish the house," Rissini said. He pointed out that this includes everything from the pouring of the cement base to the installation of the plumbing.

He pointed out that the main value of the low cost of pre-cut homes is the lack of waste. "Everything is cut to a stock size rather than a special size, so there is no waste of material," Rissini said.

Call It "Custom-Built"
Rissini likes to refer to the pre-cut house as a "custom-built house," which is constructed on the site

IS INDECISION ROBBING YOU OF A Home of your own?

INDECISION IS A COSTLY LUXURY. It is right to be prudent . . . to wonder if this is the time to buy. But it is wrong to go on, year after year, never reaching a decision, waiting, looking, finding excuses for inaction. Such indecision is wrong because it robs you and your family of a home of your own. If you have been looking for a home for more than six months . . . SERIOUSLY LOOKING, THAT IS . . . and can honestly say, "We can't find what we want," then we suggest it might be time for you to examine yourself, not the market. Perhaps you have set up an impossible "ideal" which cannot be achieved within the price limit you have set. Our advice is to consider the advantages of homes available within your financial reach . . . and forget the impossible. AFTER ALL . . . HOW MANY "DREAM SHIPS" COME IN?

U. S. Files Action Against Group Of Directory Firms

WASHINGTON—INS—The Justice Department accused the Association of North American Directory Publishers and four of its members today of monopolizing trade and commerce in the publication and sale of city directories.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., announced the complaint, which was filed as a civil anti-trust suit in Detroit federal court. Brownell's anti-trust chief, Assistant Attorney General Stanley N. Barnes, said the defendants produced about 75 percent of all U. S. city directories, and declared:

R. L. Polk Named
"This position of dominance has been obtained by numerous restrictive practices alleged to have been in flagrant disregard of the anti-trust laws."

Those named as defendants are R. L. Polk and Co., Detroit; H. A. Manning, Springfield, Mass.; the Price and Lee Co., New Haven, Conn.; and the C. B. Page Directory Co., Corpus Christi, Tex.

Also named was the publishers association, with headquarters at New York City.

Accused of Price Cuts
The complaint alleges that the defendants split up sales territories among themselves and took joint action to exclude non-association members from freely competing with them in the sale and publication of directories.

The Justice Department said this was done by price-cutting to drive competitors out of business, buying out competitors and refusing to sell copies of their directories to non-association members in order to prevent them from compiling a library of directories.

Senator Langer Says He'll Fight Wire-Tap On Spies

WASHINGTON—INS—Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman William Langer (R) North Dakota, said today he will fight any attempt to legalize wire-tapping in spy cases.

He told an interviewer he is "constitutionally opposed to wire-tapping" in any kind of criminal investigation.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell is expected to ask for legislation legalizing it when he appears before Langer's committee Jan. 8.

Langer said Brownell will testify on "anything he wants to," but it was presumed he would be spelling out the administration's proposals for laws to strengthen its hand against subversives.

President Eisenhower told Congress in his state of the union message that Brownell soon would "present his recommendations for needed additional weapons with which to combat subversion in our country."

One of these, Mr. Eisenhower said, would be a law to take citizenship from persons convicted of "conspiring to advocate the overthrow of this government by force and violence."

'The Robe' Is Slated For Cinemascope At Grand Theater

Lower Bucks County movie goers will get their first view of Cinemascope, the new motion picture process next Friday, when the Grand Theater, Mill street, Bristol, will show Twentieth Century Fox's Cinemascope, technicolor production of "The Robe".

"The Robe" will give area residents their first view of the new screen, which is approximately two and a half times wider than the customary motion picture screen. The unveiling of this new motion picture form will be the most important event in local theatrical history, according to Edward Lynn, manager of the theater.

"Cinemascope achieves the illusion of depth without the use of glasses," Lynn explained. "It's life-like panoramic scope plus stereophonic sound combine to make the audience experience complete engulment and participation in the action."

"Cinemascope is not a make-shift enlargement of a regular 35 mm. film, but an entirely new method of filming and projecting a motion picture and its impact is really astounding," he said.

"The Robe," which was produced by Frank Ross and directed by Henry Kostor, has a cast of thousands with Richard Burton, Jean Simmons, Victor Mature and Michael Rennie in starring roles. Heading a prominent supporting cast Jay Robinson, Dean Jagger, Torin Thatcher, Richard Boone, Betta St. John, Jeff Morrow, Ernest Thesiger, Dawn Addams and Leon Askin.

Expect Record Tests Of All Super-Bombs

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The government's announcement that "all categories of weapons" are to be tested in the Pacific made clear today that one of the biggest series of atomic and hydrogen explosions in history has been planned. Officials indicated that two hydrogen bombs, one to be dropped from a B-36 bomber and the other to be detonated from an island tower, may be set off during the spring series, probably in March and April.

Giant-sized atomic bombs, described by President Eisenhower as 25 times more powerful than those that devastated Hiroshima and Nagasaki, and smaller atomic warheads suitable for artillery and other tactical uses also are to be field tested.

The announcement issued by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department late Friday gave no date for the "all categories" series, but said men and materials "will begin moving this month" to the Eniwetok proving ground in the Pacific.

The announcement, laying down tighter security restrictions than at any previous atomic maneuvers, said "no observers other than U. S. officials concerned" will be permitted.

It added that the tests will be carried out by Task Force Number Seven under the command of Maj. Gen. Percy W. Clarkson. Clarkson's task force has been listed in the Pentagon telephone book since last May, but this was the first official statement of its mission.

Informed sources said that work on the hydrogen weapon has gone in two directions since the first H-bomb—reliably reported to have been 250 times as powerful as the original A-bomb—was set off in the gray dawn of November 1, 1952. One effort has been toward the development of a smaller H-bomb which could be delivered from a conventional plane. The other was toward a bomb nearly 1,000 times the power of the A-bomb, which would be big enough to destroy the largest city in one blow.

Only the smaller type of H-bomb is believed ready for military delivery. However, the sources said a detonation of the larger type from an island tower will be necessary for experimental reasons.

A total of at least 43 atomic bombs have been set off by the U. S. in previous tests. Details of the 1952 demonstration at Eniwetok, including the reported H-bomb explosion, are still an official secret.

Bath Road Group Backs Agreement With Langenfelder

The Bath Road Civic Association, of Bristol Township, is seeking an out-of-court settlement in its opposition to excavations by C. J. Langenfelder & Son, at Oxford Valley and Magnolia roads, it was learned today.

The civic group, headed by James J. Dougherty, appealed to Common Pleas Court the action of the Bristol Township Zoning Board of Adjustment in granting Langenfelder an exception to mine the 45-acre tract for Pennsylvania Turnpike fill.

When the exception was granted, the Bristol Township Commissioners made an option agreement with Langenfelder, pledging the contractor to make a park on the site. Dougherty yesterday said he has asked Harry Morrell, newly-inducted commissioner from the Third ward, to urge the new board of commissioners to renew the agreement with the contractor.

Philip E. Jones, of Morrisville, is attorney for the Bath road group while I. Louis Rubin, recently appointed township solicitor, now represents the zoning board.

PIPE FALLS ON YOUTH, KILLS HIM IN THEATER

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—A 19-year-old youth helping install Cinemascope equipment in a north-east Philadelphia movie theater was killed late Friday when a 30-foot length of pipe fell on him.

The victim, Bernard Kush, was struck on the head by the pipe which fell about 25 feet, knocking him off a stepladder. He was dead of a skull fracture when taken to a hospital.

'Teen-Age Problems Discussed By Four High School Panelists

Eight teen-agers shared a program yesterday afternoon when they appeared before the Travel Club—four as members of a panel, four as musicians.

With each of the panelists assigned a specific subject, with a few minutes allotted for presentation, there followed a period when adults in the audience queried the panelists, and the teen-agers in turn put questions to the women who make up the club membership.

The net result was an enlightening afternoon, with better understanding on the part of young folks and those of mature years. The opinion of the moderator, Oscar E. Norbeck, associate general secretary of Lower Bucks County Y. M. C. A., was, "I feel the young people have their feet on the ground. We are glad of an opportunity for the young of age to share their thoughts with the adults."

Such questions as dating, home-work, television programs, allowances, time limit on evening dates, young folks assisting with house-work, sharing of the family car were on the agenda. The young folks, by their frankness, direct approach to the problems, and admission that there are two sides to some questions—the parents' and the teen-agers'—showed a healthy and sensible attitude toward present-day living.

At the outset, Mr. Norbeck told of the problem of the Y.M.C.A. officials in attempting to meet needs of an age range from six years through adulthood. He informed that the Lower Bucks Youth Council, of which the group participating is a part, meets with regularity.

Nancy States, Bristol high school student, was assigned the subject of "Allowances." She felt that an allowance "plays a very important part in a young person's life," adding that the amount allocated should depend on the age of the girl or boy, and the family income. She was of the opinion that if a teen-ager works, no sum from the parents is necessary for spending money; and that if a fair amount is earned by the girl or boy, a portion should be saved.

A Delhaas high school pupil, Joan Anderson, discussed "Dating." She had this to say in part: "Dating is one of the most important things in a teen-ager's life. Dating is influenced by the home, the school and the church." She added that there is need for understanding and trust on the part of the parents. "They should talk over the dates with the young folks and show a sincere interest," Joan was of the opinion that a teen-ager should not date every night in the week. "Dating means having fun, making friends, and finding what kind of a mate you would like for the future."

To Edwin Montgomery, of Council Rock high school, Newtown, fell the subject of "The Family Car." He feels that "Use of the family car should be a cooperative arrangement between the teen-ager and the parents." Edwin's decision was that the young person should ask well in advance for use of the car, so the parents and the teen-ager can both plan. "Always go where you say you are going," he admonished. This discussion also included some arrangements where the teen-ager "pays" for use of the car, in some cases two or three cents a mile from his allowance, in other cases so much per night. By this method, it was felt, the young person has a better realization of maintenance costs. In regard to aid, "Remember the lives that depend on you—those in the car and others on the road."

Walter Michael of Fairless Hills, a student at Pennsylvania high school, Yardley R.D., was assigned for discussion "Home Work." He expressed the opinion that "homework is necessary, but should be cut to a minimum." The young folks felt that teen-agers should be permitted to decide when their home-work should be done, and not forced to do such at a specific hour when it might interfere with other things.

The queries put to each other by the panel and the audience provoked interesting and enlightening answers. Faith and trust on the part of both parents and young folks is required, the summation revealed.

Mrs. Charles Peet, chairman of education committee, introduced the vocalists for the day. The trio, Jo-Ann Argus, Janette Wetherill, and Anna Marie Adams, offered "Bewitched" and "I Believe." Their accompanist was Ann Roos.

Mrs. Frank S. Weik, club president, requested Mrs. Wilson C. Smith and Mrs. Donald Moyer to serve as tellers, during membership balloting. A new member introduced was Miss Dorothy Myers.

The prayer for peace was offered by Mrs. Norbeck. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Howard L. Leister and Mrs. Harry T. Neher.

Today's Quiet Moment

By The Rev. E. S. Dennis, Pastor
Bethel A. M. E. Church

"They shall call on my name and I will hear them, I will say, 'It is my people, and they shall say, 'The Lord is my God' (Zech 13:9)."

Prayer is the Christian's sincere desire unuttered or expressed, the Christian's vital thought, the Christian's native air, his watchword at the gate of death. He enters Heaven by prayer.

God delights in the prayers of the upright. The enemy of the soul does all that he can to keep the upright from praying and if he cannot succeed in that, he will strive to persuade them that their prayer was so cold, and their mind so scattered and wandering while in prayer, that God has not heard and it is useless to expect an answer. Do not be discouraged, you may always remember, it is the sincerity of the heart and not the wandering of the mind that God is pleased with. Prayer has conquering power. Do you try it often?

Book 'Lord Vanity' Listed For Review

The literary department has outlined the program for the January 13th meeting of Levittown Women's Club. The meeting site is Tullytown Fire Co. hall, the hour eight p. m.

The program, which will precede the business meeting, will include a review of "Lord Vanity," this being presented by Mrs. E. H. Jenness, of Morrisville high school library, and secretary of Fallstown Library Board. Mrs. Jenness will be remembered by the club members as having appeared at the first meeting of the club in December, 1952, her presentation at that time being "The Christmas Apple."

The club will present three troop flags which it has purchased for Girl Scouts of Levittown. Mrs. W. David Price, club president, will present these flags to the leaders of the following troops: No. 84, Mrs. Edward Sack; No. 65, Mrs. Kenneth Buchen; No. 152, Mrs. Ralph Blumenthal. Eight Girl Scouts will open the meeting by leading the pledge to the American Flag.

Mrs. Horace Allen, is chairman of the new hospitality committee, formed to welcome and assist new members and guests. Her committee is composed of: Mrs. Eddy Fayle, Mrs. James Taylor, Mrs. John Musselman, Mrs. Frank Randall.

Captains for the "Mothers March on 'Polio'" are to be announced, this door-to-door solicitation in Levittown to occur the last week in January.

Fifty Year Talk On Home Sewing

A representative of Singer Sewing Machine Co. gave a talk before members of Oaktree Women's Club Thursday evening when that group met in William Penn Center, Fallstown.

Temporary president, Mrs. Winifred Ash, presided.

Mrs. Mack, from the Singer firm, showed the group how to make draperies and explained the making of slip covers, etc. Also attending was Robert Elliott, sales representative of Singer Company and Everett Franz, manager of the Singer store in Levittown.

It was decided to hold meetings the 4th Thursday of each month instead of the first Wednesday.

Mrs. Charles Frazer entertained Mrs. Snee, of Somerton; Mrs. R. McQue, Mrs. J. Walters, Mrs. H. Ambrose, and Mrs. J. Lang, Philadelphia. Canasta and refreshments were enjoyed.

Trevose

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dominiani are parents of a girl, Marie Deborah, born January 1st. Mrs. Dominiani is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Herwig, Mechanicsville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Herritt, Jan. 5th.

V. JOHNSON ARRIVES AT HOME OF HIS PARENTS

The arrival of Victor Johnson, M. M. F. N. U. S. Navy, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, on January 5th provided an occasion for rejoicing.

Since Johnson was last home in June, 1953, he had been in Korea, Japan, and on Okinawa.

Johnson had received his discharge December 14, on the west coast.

Two Schools Beat State's Deadline

Bristol Township's projected Benjamin Franklin Junior High School and Lafayette Elementary School qualified for state building aid before the ax was dropped on State Authority appropriations, but construction must start by early fall.

The state will pay close to half the cost of each school. Benjamin Franklin School is estimated at $2,500,000 and Lafayette School at $2,580,000.

The School Board has assigned Bristol Township School District Authority to build the schools. Benjamin Franklin Junior High is to be in Levittown, and Lafayette School in Laurel Bend, north of Delhaas High School.

Human Relations Talk, Piano Solo Featured

An address on "Human Relations in the Community," presented by a Philadelphia resident, together with piano solo by a Bristol boy, formed a program which pleased and enlightened members of Langhorne Sorosis on Thursday. The clubwomen met in Langhorne Library for their first meeting of the year 1954. Presiding at the afternoon session and the morning meeting of the board was Mrs. John Barjor.

The speaker, Mrs. Marjorie Penney, expounded the need for better race relations in order to draw the peoples of the world closer together in peace and mutual understanding. Mrs. Penney is director of Fellowship House, Philadelphia. She urged that better understanding become "the connecting bridge over the chasm of prejudice and bigotry."

The program was under direction of the American Department of the club.

Musical entertainment was provided by Douglass Bowker, Bristol, age 11 years, who has been a student of the piano for only one year. The easy style of Douglass' delivery, and the clear enunciation of tone brought congratulations from the audience.

Mrs. Werner H. Bathmann read an article which had appeared in December issue of "The Clubwoman," enumerating activities and projects of Sorosis during the past year.

Mrs. Beiler requested members wishing to attend a forum on Feb. 9th at 8:15, and Feb. 10 at 1:30 and 8:15 p. m. at the Academy of Music, Phila., to make ticket reservations through Mrs. Hilbert Wald-Koenig.

A motion was made to purchase card tables for Valley Forge Hospital, Phoenixville, using funds collected at Christmas time.

Mrs. Beiler appointed a student aid fund committee, consisting of Mrs. Harry Walker, Mrs. Paul Benetich, and Mrs. Phillip Lewis. All chairmen were requested to furnish by Feb. 21 report of committee activities over the past year, to be in triplicate for county, state and club groups. They were also requested to give some thought to programs for next season, these to be discussed at next board meeting.

A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Bathmann for being instrumental in acquisition of the club's new record player.

Antique division chairman, Mrs. Horace Townsend, announced the next meeting with box luncheon, to be held at the home of Mrs. William Kaye, on Jan. 19, at 11 a. m. The topic will be "Early American Furniture," and a talk on "Pinnacles" will be given by Mrs. Harold Wilson. Regular meetings of the antique division will be held on the third Tuesday of each month.

Mrs. Roscoe Horner, announced a book club meeting for Jan. 28 at 11 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Donald Huntsberger.

Mrs. Walter Jackson called attention to men's night on Jan. 19 in the library.

Talent table yielded among others a huge angel food cake and a platter of rolls.

The "little flower show" prize winner was Mrs. Werner Bathmann, for potted ivy.

Tea hostess for the day was Mrs. John Stahl, with Mrs. Arthur Townsend and Mrs. Margaretta Yorke pouring.

New Members Face Initiation On 12th

New members will be initiated at the meeting of Bristol Chapter, No. 763, Women of the Moose, Tuesday evening, Jan. 12, at eight o'clock.

The meeting is to be conducted in the Moose home, with Mrs. George Lilly, senior regent, presiding.

Arlene Cleaver, of Temple, will pay an official visit.

A repeat in the grill room will follow the session.

News of Weddings And Engagements

The Bristol Daily Courier welcomes news and photographs of engagements and weddings of residents of Lower Bucks County.

Information on engagement announcements must be authenticated by signature and wedding notices should be submitted a few days in advance of the ceremony.

Engagements photographs will be used when space permits and should be submitted with the announcement; wedding pictures as soon as possible after they are taken.

Information on engagements or weddings should be brought or mailed to the Daily Courier. Persons interested may also telephone the Daily Courier (Bristol 8-3325) or get in touch with Daily Courier correspondents in their area.

More Volunteers Sought In Drive For 'Polio' Funds

Mothers will be marching throughout this area during the coming two weeks—marching from door to door to secure funds in the battle against poliomyelitis.

The one-hour drive for funds in Bristol borough is scheduled for January 26, starting at seven p. m.

This "Bristol March" will be on a door-to-door basis, with families being asked to contribute to the program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Mrs. Robert Braker, Cedar Street, and Mrs. Elwood Bilger, Market street, co-chairmen, are making a plea for volunteer collectors in Bristol and Bensalem townships also.

The drive in Bristol township is listed for January 16, starting at one p. m. Mrs. Charles D. Sanford, chairman of Bristol township fund drive, states the reason for setting the collection during the afternoon is that "more can be accomplished by the solicitors during the day, owing to houses being scattered in some of the township areas, and lighting conditions being very poor."

Volunteers are also being sought in Croydon area. Croydon drive is at one p. m., January 16. Those interested may contact the captains in that area, Mrs. Doran Edwards or Mrs. Francis Fishburn.

Lounge Pattern Overhangs New Furniture In '54

CHICAGO, (INS) — A lady will need slinky black satin pajamas to relax on 1954 lounging furniture. New sofas and chairs being shown at the midwinter home furnishings market in Chicago are lush, over-stuffed items with a definite "Harem" air.

Sofas are longer, lower and softer and usually have dropped chaise-type ends so you don't have to sit up straight. As a matter of fact, these are the kind of divans that call for lounging in the Theda Bara tradition, with long cigarette holders and smoldering glances.

There are of course a few sturdy lawsons around on which a lady may sit in her old flannel bathrobe. But most of the new upholstered seating pieces play up comfort and elegance, and are meant for lounging, not sitting.

Upholstery fabrics are rich and silky, cushions are soft, sink-into affairs, and the sofas themselves are lower, so that when you sit down you practically slither into a prone position.

This emphasis on plush, eastern-type lounging extends even to sections and hassocks. Sections are extra-large, and most upholstered hassocks are big enough in diameter so that you can stretch out on them.

DAY'S OUTING TO NEW YORK WILL BE BY BUS

The Dorcas Circle of Newportville Presbyterian Sunday School is arranging a bus trip to New York, N. Y., April 24th.

The itinerary will include the Astor show at Radio City Music Hall, performance of "The House of the August Moon," and a dinner. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Frank Murken.

Eleven Volunteer In Cookie Sale By County Girl Scouts

Eleven area women have volunteered to be neighborhood sale chairmen in the 1954 Cookie Sale of the Girl Scouts of Bucks County. The drive will begin Wednesday and will continue for two weeks.

According to Mrs. Horace Watson, of Newtown, president of the Bucks County Girl Scout Council, the women who have volunteered to receive orders from troop leaders include: Mrs. L. S. MacGann, Levittown; Mrs. Bertine Markle, Fairless Hills and Fallsington; Mrs. Russell Johnson, Bristol and Edge-ly; Mrs. Jack Benson, Newportville, Croydon, and Maple Shade; Mrs. Edward McDonald, Andalusia, Cornwells Heights, and Eddington; Mrs. Russell Longnecker, Langhorne and Hulmeville; Mrs. Harold Herzog, Trevoze; Mrs. Elroy Simons, Feasterville; Mrs. Frederick Turner, Southampton; Mrs. William Krusen, Newtown, and Mrs. Bradley Algeo, Jr., New Hope and Solebury.

The Girl Scouts will canvass their neighborhoods and take orders for cookies. Mrs. Watson said. Funds collected will go in part to the individual troops and also toward the new Bucks County Girl Scout camp near Quakertown. The money will be used to improve the camp's facilities.

On target, as usual, Bristol High's Harold Loud bagged 19 points last night as the Warriors trounced Delhaas, 70-32, in an important Lower Bucks County League game. Just as important to his mates, the frail senior passed off five assists, a record for BHS this year.

Giardello Stops Panter In Fifth

NEW YORK — INS — Third-ranking middleweight Joey Giardello of Philadelphia eyed a title match with champion Bobo Olson today after posting his 47th victory in 62 starts Friday night.
Giardello scored a fifth-round technical knockout over hard-punching Garth Panter of Salt Lake City in a 10-round match which was televised nationally from Madison Square Garden.
The 23-year-old 3-to-1 favorite dazed Panter with a fast right to the head and then sent him reeling around the ring and partially through the ropes before the referee spared Panter further punishment at one minute and 16 seconds of the fifth round.
It was the 37th knockout for Giardello, who at 160 spotted his opponent a pound, and it was the first time that Panter, a veteran of 67 fights, ever was stopped.

Bristol Matmen Top Springfield

Strength in the lightweight divisions carried Bristol High's improving wrestlers to their second victory in five matches yesterday in Springfield Township.
The Warriors registered a close 26-21 conquest of Springfield High when their lightweight quintet posted three pins, a decision and a forfeit win. Springfield landed full verdicts in the middle field and decisions at 165 and 185.
Jerry Crosby got Bristol off in the right direction when he nailed his man in 1:45 minutes of the 95-pound skirmish. Vince Pistagnesi followed with a second period pin at 103 pounds and his brother, Lido, took down Jack Copeland of Springfield in 1:15 minutes.
A 6-1 decision for John Kopack over Roy Reeves and Dom Petrino's forfeit win, which kept his five-match record perfect, secured the Bristol victory.
Mike Snyder suffered his first defeat in two bouts when he was pinned by Jack Dedney of Springfield in a minute and a half at 135 pounds. And Bristol dropped six more points when it forfeited the 154-pound class.
Both Bob Francis and Andy Gall suffered decision setbacks in heavy-

Bristol High's galloping Warriors, just two games out of the gate, had a one-length lead on the Lower Bucks County League field today and apparently nothing but a clear track ahead in their energetic quest for a repeat championship.

The Tribe spilled out of its famed fastbreak last night to engulf Delhaas' Tigers, 70-32, before a packed house in the BHS gymnasium. It was Bristol's second league success and eighth win against a single defeat this Winter.
For Delhaas, winner of four straight games previously and pegged by many observers as Bristol's prime threat, it was like getting caught blindfolded in a revolving door. Once they got their bearings, the Tigers settled down to a creditable, albeit sometimes ragged, performance. But by then it was Bristol's game in a walk.

The Big Three—Dick Crosby, Harold Loud and Phil Attardo—had its customary picnic and proved more than the game Bengals could digest. Crosby, wheeling and dealing in his best performance of the campaign, crowded 24 points through the trons; Loud, chipped in 19 and Attardo had 16 for his abbreviated stay. That made it 59 for the Big Three on an amazing 24 field goals in 50 shots among them. Crosby alone sank ten of his 17 flings for the best effort registered to date in the LBCL.

Delhaas Trio
Delhaas' own top trio, Larry Katz, Dick Smith and Bob Morris, were only slightly less brilliant as they meshed for 15 field goals and 41 markers. Katz, whose solo court-length drives electrified the mob, was tops with 18 points. Morris, a tireless rebounding tower, had 13, and Smith registered ten.

The decision was reached in 12 minutes of the rough conflict, and everything that happened thereafter was mere dressing. The Warriors broke from an 8-8 tie in the first three minutes to a string of seven points and an eventual 21-13 margin at the first quarter.

Then, after Nick Moran opened the second round with a gift shot for Delhaas, the Warriors shifted into high to pour in 11 straight markers, five by Crosby, four by Loud and two by Attardo. That made it 32-14 with only 12 minutes gone in the struggle and, surprisingly enough, the Bengals played Bristol on even terms over the remaining 20 minutes.

Delhaas entered the ring with Jim Bustraan on deck in place of Moran and moved into an unfamiliar man-for-man defense. It took the Tribe only four minutes to pick the lock and before Coach Tom Elliott could re-adjust his defenses, Bristol had itself a victory.

The demoralizing 11-point string was instigated by Crosby and Loud, who thieved pass after pass from Delhaas inept ball-moving department. In the stretch each Warrior forward had two assists and two ringers. Crosby finished with four handouts for the game, all of them to Loud; while Loud had five, four of them to dazzling Dickie.

Back Into Zone

The Tigers moved back into their customary zone defense after the burst and managed to keep the game on even keel. Bristol moved to a 44-28 lead at halftime when Attardo meshed six points late in the second quarter to offset a bottled Tiger rally set off by Katz's half dozen.

Early in the last half Loud hit back-to-back deuces and Attardo pumped in a layup on a good pass from Frank Manzo to make it 51-30 for the longest Warrior lead. Thereupon Coach Ben Watson hoisted three regulars for a brief rest and the visitors managed to work up a 10-9 edge in the game's only low-scoring quarter. At the three-quarter mark it was, 53-38, Bristol.

Tigers Rally
Here the Tigers made their one big bid when Moran, Katz and Smith socked in successive field goals to open the last quarter and cut the Bristol advantage to nine points at 53-44. But Township followers had hardly lifted their cheers before Russ Johnson drilled under for two ringers and Johnson's Asta clustered three points to make it a safe 60-44 ball game for BHS.

Watson hustled his regular crew back into action to keep Delhaas at bay, and it stayed intact until both Johnson and Dom Sottile went out on fouls. Johnson had recorded one of his top games, claiming eight rebounds and seven points. He was particularly active against the Delhaas man-for-man defense.

Tiger Morris deserves a palm or two, too. The blond, crewcut senior squeezed a total of 18 rebounds in a one-man rebuttal to Bristol's usual backboard monopoly and harried the confounding Attardo as well as could be expected.

The Jayvee game was no contest as 11 Bristolers contributed points to a 74-37 romp. Marty Konefal (18), Bob Ferry (13), Fenton Larrisey (11) and Mike Zavacky (10) were the leaders. Bill Campbell and Red Walsh had two each for Delhaas' outclassed yearlings.

Top Cage Teams Active Tonight

By International News Service

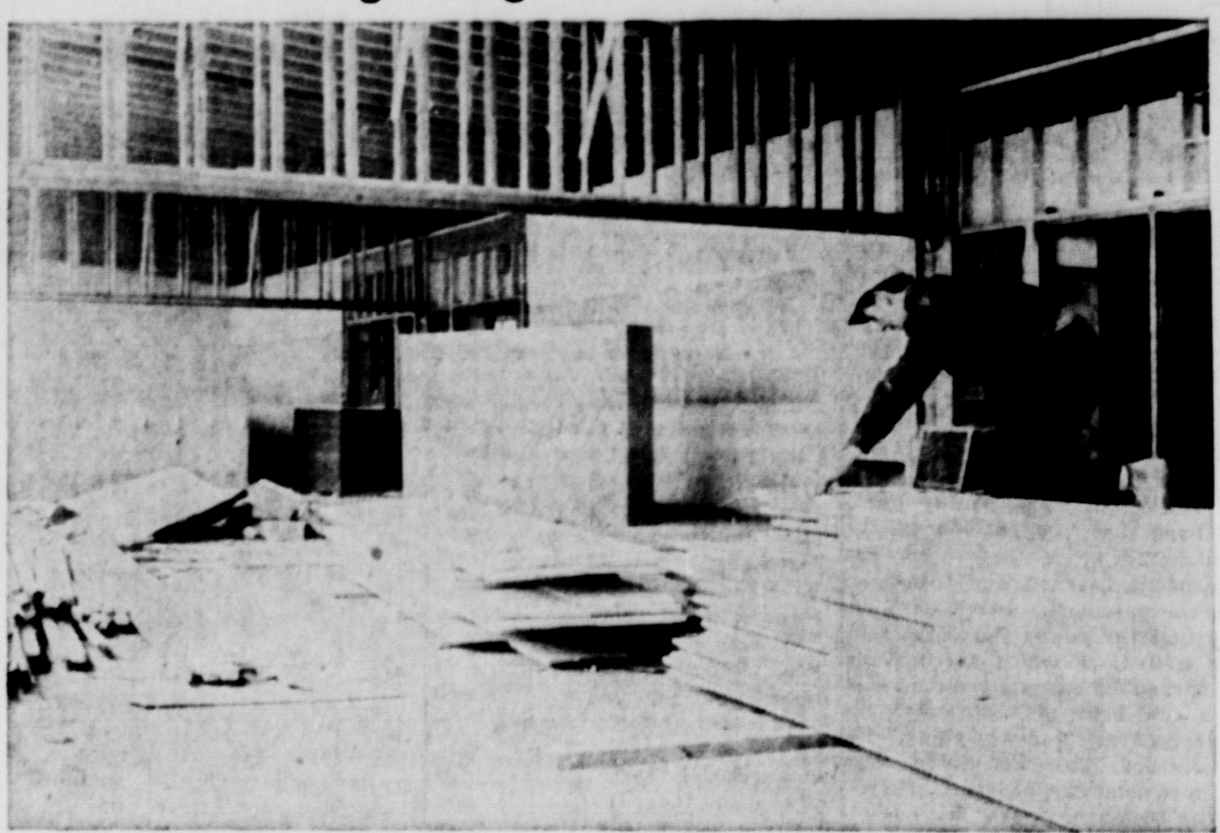

The three top teams in the International News Service weekly college basketball ratings — Kentucky, Duquesne and Indiana — all will see action tonight in a busy schedule.
Kentucky, number one on the INS list, meets Georgia Tech at Lexington, Ky. The undefeated Wildcats are seeking their eighth straight victory.
Duquesne's Dukes 12-0; also unbeaten, oppose St. Francis.
Indiana 8-1, defending NCAA and Big Ten titleholder, battles a dangerous conference foe in Minnesota 8-1 at Minneapolis.

Three doubleheaders are listed on the eastern front.
At Madison Square Garden, New York, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia meets St. John's of Brooklyn and Iowa battles Dayton.
At Philadelphia, Navy opposes Temple and Muhlenberg meets La Salle.

In Buffalo, N. Y., Niagara meets St. Bonaventure and Siena clashes with Canisius.
In another game of note, Notre Dame plays host to NYU at South Bend, Ind.

Few of the top teams saw action Friday night.
Scores of top games were:
Penn 78, Navy 60; LSU 97, Georgia 62; Columbia 63, Harvard 57; Villanova 95, Baldwin Wallace 78; Xavier 91, Loyola 53; Idaho 70, Oregon State 65; and California 62, UCLA 63.

Tiger Cage In Construction

A workman inspects materials in what promises to be one of the area's largest gymnasiums, now nearing completion at Delhaas High. The game room, which will include sliding partitions that will divide it into separate basketball courts for practice sessions, unhappily will not be available to Tiger teams this Winter. Use of the structure must await approval of an entire new wing at the Bristol Township school.

Falcons Thump Alumni, 67-44; Jayvees Tip CR

Pennsbury High's snowballing Falcons outclassed their Alumni, 67-44, last night in their annual struggle in the PHS gymnasium. It was the fourth win in six starts for the Falcons, who used the fray for a tuneup for key Lower Bucks County League scrapes with Morrisville and Bristol next week.

In an opener Pennsbury's strong Jayvee squad defeated Council Rock, 41-27, as the Indians continued their abbreviated and informal 1954 schedule.

Falcon scoring balance was too much for the Alumni to handle in the feature. The varsity rolled to a 16-6 first quarter lead and never were in real trouble as nine players contributed to the scoring. Big Mike Baldovski, busy under the boards, landed five field goals and three fouls to share scoring honors at 13 with jump-shooting Dave Gerard.

Mac Pitches
Jim MacMillan, Pennsbury's smooth little court general, concentrated his efforts on pitching to his mates and finished out of double figures with seven points for the first time in four games.

For the Alumni, Ray Bray and Chris Bennett had 10 and 12 points respectively. The Grads made one real fuss, that in the second period when they outscored the varsity, 17-12. That cut the gap to 28-23 at recess, but a 17-point Falcon barrage in the third period eliminated the sting.

Dave Rapino and Jack Touchberry collaborated on 23 points in the Jayvee game as Pennsbury outscored CR, 11-2, in the first period and breezed home. Jack Sparling had 12 to lead the Indians, only three of whom managed to score.

NARY LEADS LA OPEN

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Big Bill Nary, who has yet to win a golf tournament in seven years of campaigning, held a two stroke lead over the field today as play got under way in the second round of the $20,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament.

Bensalem Trims Bulldogs, 58-49

all, Morrisville, slow to get off the mark this Winter, took its third setback and second in the circuit.

A 24-18 halftime margin stood up for Bensalem, who delivered dividends last night for Bensalem High's sometimes terrific Owls as they posted a 58-49 victory over Willis Morrisville in a Lower Bucks County League game on the losers' court.

It was the first league win for the Owls, who dropped their opener to Pennsbury Tuesday night and the fourth success in six games over through a higher-scoring second half for the Owls, who got 18-point performances out of six-foot-five Bob Frantz and six-foot Bob Lake. For Lake, who had seven field goals and four fouls, the burst brought his two-game take to 40 points and made him one of the LBCL's early scoring pacesetters.

Frank Pesce, Morrisville's hard-working backcourt performer, headed his team's efforts with 16 points. But general miserable shooting cancelled the Bulldog bid. They hit on only 17 of 72 shots from the field and but 15 of 29 foul tries. Don Habel was second best with 10 Morrisville points.

The lifter went to Morrisville's strong Jayvee unit, 49-35.

NCAA Declares War On 'Outlaws'

CINCINNATI, O. — INS — The National Collegiate Athletic Association closed its 48th annual convention today with a tacit declaration of war against schools and colleges who violate the NCAA rules in letter or in spirit.

The NCAA emerged from one of its most harmonious sessions with a streamlined machinery investigating charges against alleged actors, and with a promise of full cooperation from the American Football Coaches Association.

The Coaches' Committee on Ethics spelled out its disagreement with the philosophy that "all is fair in football."

High on its list, the committee headed by Bill Murray of Duke, cited faking of injuries to stop the clock as a "violation of the spirit of the rules and not in the best interests of the game."

It also censured picking of weekly game winners by active coaches, organized sideline coaching, scouting of opponents' practice sessions, falsifying of players' weights and exchanges of movies except as authorized by conferences or by mutual consent of opponents.

And it suggested empowering conference committees to remove from football squads any player whose conduct is detrimental to the best interests of the game, particularly in the sphere of flagrant unnecessary roughness.

The committee pointed out that their code of ethics is only one year old and advocated an educational campaign to make certain it is understood. After that, the coaches made clear, they won't hesitate to discipline, if necessary even to expel from membership, a violator.

Wallick Makes LBCAC Debut With Jets Sunday

Franklin A. C., point-happy leader of the Lower Bucks County Athletic Conference, today announced the acquisition of Bill Wallick, one of the most prolific scorers in the history of Lower Bucks basketball.

Wallick, a six-foot-four giant gifted with remarkable "touch," is holder of the Rohm and Haas clubhouse one-game record of 63 points. He collected the mark during the 1950-51 season when he was named the most valuable player in the now-defunct Bristol Industrial conference.

The young marksman, just back from two years Army service, will move right into the middle of the LBCAC picture tomorrow afternoon when his team takes on Tornado's Garage in the opener of a doubleheader at the R&H gym at 1:30.

Franklin will be shooting for its eighth win in nine starts and second of the year over Tornado. The Garagemen are in fourth place with a 3-3 mark.

In the windup of the bargain attraction a new local Levittown A. A. team is paired with Bensalem Alumni. The Pioneers, winners of five in seven games, will be angling to keep pace with the leaders. They will be the strong favorite over a Bensalem team that has won but one of seven contests.

PENN FENCER INJURED

SCHAFER SCORES 46 IN VILLANOVA VICTORY

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—High-scoring Bob Schaffer dropped in 46 points as Villanova basketweavers defeated Baldwin-Wallace, 95-78 Friday night at the Palestra.

In the other half of the doubleheader, Penn, paced by 23 points by Bart Leach, took a 78-60 victory over Navy.

Schaffer's tallies wiped out the Palestra mark of 45 points set last year by former teammate, Larry Hennessey, against Boston College. Schaffer now has a game-scoring average of 29.9.

State Highways Get 136 Millions, All-Time Record

HARRISBURG—Construction, re-construction, resurfacing and widening projects on Pennsylvania's highway system during 1953 reached the all-time total of $136,011,000, E. L. Schmidt, secretary of highways, reported to Gov. John S. Fine.

"This brings the three-year construction total during your administration to $382,780,000, another new record-breaking mark that exceeds any other in the history of the department," Schmidt added.

"Sixty-six and three-tenths cents of each dollar available to the department were expended for these improvements, which are of immediate benefit to our growing volume of traffic," Schmidt continued.

Maintenance of the existing 41,000-mile state highway system, including snow removal, cost the department 15.4 cents of each available dollar, Schmidt pointed out. Grants to local units of government, administration and engineering, special work and the purchase of land buildings and equipment claimed the remaining portion of the highway dollar.

"Great as have been the achievements of the past year as well as the two preceding years of your administration," Schmidt continued in his report, "the current year will bring a construction program of even greater magnitude."

"The department expects to complete a construction program of similar size during 1954, barring unforeseeable adverse developments, like war, exceptionally bad weather or prolonged strikes affecting supplies and materials. Attainment of this goal will record for your administration the greatest four-year construction program ever completed under any governor in Pennsylvania," Schmidt concluded.

Day of Westerns May Be Near End; Space Films Shine

HOLLYWOOD — (INS)—One of America's most time-worn types of entertainment is facing an upstart competitor from out of this world, that may drive it into the dusty realm of derby hats and hand-some cabs.

Western movies — those gun-slinging, hard riding out epics that have quickened the pulses of generations of red blooded Americans — look like a good bet to fade away like old soldiers one of these days.

On the Hollywood popularity barometer — boxoffice returns — the western still has a high rating, and most studios continue to turn over big chunks of their annual budgets to manufacturing age sagas.

But they are being made for the old folks. The kids aren't buying them like they used to. They've found something new — outer space.

Change To Ray Guns

And while tradition-minded producers have turned out such ambitious westerns as "High Noon," "Hondo," "Jack Slade" and "Shane," others of a more modern turn of mind are quietly slipping ray guns and green-haired Martians onto their sound stages for pictures like "It Came From Outer Space," "War of the Worlds," "The Man From Planet X" and "The Atomic City."

The idea that the day is coming when the moviegoing populace will be more interested in cosmic rays than the speed of Wild Bill Hickock's draw may seem fantastic yet it's beginning to appear that the generation that reveres Buffalo Bill more than Captain Midnight is dying out.

If you don't believe it, take a look in the toy department of almost any store.

POLICE SCHOOL DRAWS ATTENDANCE OF 35

Thirty-five persons from Lower Bucks County communities last week attended the first meeting of the Civil Defense Auxiliary Police School.

The first of eight three-hour sessions was held in the fire station, Chestnut avenue, Tullytown. Chief Felix Gowan, retired Pennsylvania State Police officer, is conducting the course.

The course will cover all phases of police and fire activities in relation to emergencies and civil defense.

Cap pistols, chaps and lariats are still being prominently displayed, but you'll find most of the mop-tops gathered around the ray guns, space helmets and Martian goggles.

Actor Gene Barry, who has more or less associated himself with things astronomic by playing nuclear physicists in Paramount's "The Atomic City" and "War of the Worlds," says he got a lesson in how far the space craze has gone while making a personal appearance recently in nearby Long Beach.

Gene ducked outside for a quick smoke and found himself confronted by a youngster disguised in goggles and carrying a toy gun. The actor smiled benignly on his little fan and started to pat him on the head when the boy hissed: "They're coming. They're coming."

"Who?" said Gene, looking over his shoulder for his producer.

"They're on their way from Neptune," said the lad. "You guys in Hollywood don't know it yet, but they're coming from space right now."

With that he gave Gene a blast in the face with his ray gun and disappeared.

Map Expansion Of Hercules Plant

The Hercules Powder Co., has announced plans for a $4,000,000 expansion of its Burlington, N.J., plant to include the manufacture of DMT, a raw material used in the manufacture of Terylene, a synthetic fiber similar to Dacron.

The expansion for the manufacture of dimethyl terephthalate will be unrelated to the present operations of the plant. Eventually the firm plans to double its present 175 man employment. The expansion may be completed in May of 1955, according to the Wilmington, Del., headquarters.

The company has already invested $1,500,000 in preparations for the new plant, according to a company spokesman.

Lights Play Part In Varied Beauties At Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., (INS)—It has been rumored by songwriters that certain couples who visit Niagara Falls, never turn their love-lazed eyes in the direction of the splashing fairland — but this is not true.

In the sunshine, maybe, the falls are resistible. But when nature's lights go out and Mr. Edison's multi-colored models come on, the Niagara Falls become probably the greatest extravaganza in current production.

It would seem that there would require a great master craftsman to match his genius against nature in the job of playing lights on one of the Wonders of the World. But there actually is no single "painter of the falls." Four men and one-billion-320 candlepower fuse forces to do the work.

Made Chief The chief mogul of the technicolor falls is a man named Harold G. Male, who spent 35 years in the falls-lighting business. As works superintendent for the Niagara Parks Commission of Ontario, he doubtless knows more about how to prettify nature than any man in these parts. Millions of wonder-hazed visitors every year send home samples of his handiwork on picture postcards.

Male, with the help of three operators, spends approximately $21,000 annually to turn out their glamorous show.

They use 24 searchlights which are 36 inches in diameter, each of them operating at 55 million candlepower. The bill is footed equally by Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Niagara Falls, Ontario, which feel logically that the expenditure is well worth the money for the tourist trade it attracts.

Cagey About Act Male is cagey about the way he works into his act.

For the first half-hour after the sun goes down, he gives the audience the "routine treatment" — straight, cut-and-dried electric lighted whiteness.

Then, just as the guests are turning restless under the cold white light, he flashes with the colors. Warm, colors, he gives them, like orange and yellow and deep green and red. He waits about 15 minutes for the oh's and ah's to die down, and then switches to other shades — maybe deep rose or blue, purple and lavender.

Dark Shows Up Mr. Male insists that the falls are so white and frothy only dark colors will show up. He knows exactly how dark they should be, and how they should be blended.

There is no set pattern or color scheme that Male and his operators adhere to. They work by whimsy. Maybe one night they feel morose, and the guests get mostly blues and purples. Another night Joe on the searchlights will feel giddy — it's red.

The result is always pleasing, startling, dramatically lovely to the watchers.

U. S. Cuts Contracts On Trucks, Trailers

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Defense Department has ordered a cutback of 140 million dollars in contracts for trucks and trailers.

Under the new order, the six producers will put out less than 50 per cent of the vehicles originally contracted for.

A statement made by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said the cutback was a result of the Korean armistice.

Township Dump Still Burning Issue

DUMP FIRE, photographed at Bristol township dump yesterday, was attributed by township officials to disposing of Christmas trees too bulky to bury. President Charles Phillips, of Bristol Township Civic Association, whose home is nearby, says dump smoke has occurred since sanitary landfill was put in use last Fall.

taken in 1950, set the population at close to 12,000. Andrews said the present population is "nearly 30,000 persons."

Adding his voice to the protest a township resident said today he did not think the raise would be legal regardless of population, because of the state laws for first class townships. The commissioner, under the state code, he said, cannot enact a pay increase to take effect in the same year in which it is adopted.

2 Members Named For School Board

Two men have been named members of the Council Rock School board by the Newtown Elementary School Board. Dr. Lawrence Fitch will serve for one year, and Dr. Blaine R. Garner for two.

The men succeeded Mrs. Clinton Greenlee and William F. Morlock, Jr. on the panel.

The contract for all for the Newtown Elementary School Building for six months was awarded to William W. Fabian and Son and Robert Kenderline and Son, both of Newtown.

A set of Cadmus library books has been placed on the shelves of the school library, selected by parents, teachers and authors jointly, for use in elementary grades. Parent-teacher conferences in the elementary school will be held during January. School will be closed Jan. 29 and Feb. 1—mid-year examinations to take place on the former date and a teachers workshop scheduled for the February date.

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Stevan S. Liszewski, 34, was killed instantly Friday night when his car crashed into the rear of a freight train halted near the Philadelphia waterfront. He was a longshoreman and was en route home when the mishap occurred.

Induct Councilmen At Zion Lutheran Services Sunday

Newly elected councilmen at Zion Lutheran Church will be installed at tomorrow's 11 a. m. church service.

Elected at a recent annual congregational meeting of the church were Frederick Herrman, Langhorne; Ralph Hineine, West Bristol; George Seemiller, Margo Gardens and Roy Jenks, Bristol.

The grace service of giving was adopted at the meeting. It is a plan passed by the Philadelphia Conference Ministerium in May 1953. The system calls for the contribution of benevolent monies each month, without goals or quotas, but rather is dependent upon the free-will offering of the people.

The congregation decided to use wine rather than grape juice for holy communion.

The 1954 budget, calling for the receiving and disbursing of over $15,000, was read and adopted. The possibility of starting a building drive campaign in 1954 was discussed.

All groups within the church gave reports on their year's activities.

Library Formed By Bridge Club

The Levittown Bridge Club has announced that it has purchased a number of books that will be available to its members.

Players may borrow the books, free of charge for a two-week period. The club has listed 27 titles that will be available at the next meeting, Thursday, Jan. 14.

Prizes and fractional master points will be awarded to the winners at next week's session. The club will play at 8 p. m. in the Fallington library. A full master point game is scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 21.

Winners at the last game were: North-south, first, Richard Hastings and Jack Spencer; second, Mrs. Sally Kent and Chet Fazio; third, William Chamberlain and Donald Roberts; fourth, Mrs. Mabel Bjarnason; tie, Drs. Vera and Earl Usdin.

East-west, first, Mr. and Mrs. William Dwyer; second, Alan Weinberg and Robert Morrow; third, Dr. and Mrs. John McEwan; fourth, John Lavezzoli and George Douglas.

The North Carolina Gazette was founded at New Bern in 1751.

ELIZABETH WOODWARD SAYS:

Outside Influences Are Always There

If the two of you could be alone on the top of a mountain perhaps your relationship would be all sweetness and light. There would be no outside influences from parents and friends to complicate your attitudes and conversation. There would be no pulling apart because of the pressures exerted by the other circumstances and people in your separate lives. Just being alone would simplify the whole deal. Your reactions and impressions would revolve about each other in intense concentration.

But life isn't like that often. There are so many other demands on your thoughts and your personalities — demands that scatter your wits, divide your allegiance, and confuse the issue. All because you're never quite alone. Families and friends are continually getting themselves into the act.

Here's a girl, for instance, who's wondering if she isn't just one too many people in her boy friend's family. She gets along very nicely indeed with him. His parents are her thorns in the flesh. She writes:

"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: How under the sun can you win the respect and affection of your boy friend's parents? When we started going steady, they started asking him questions. Everything I've ever said or done has been discussed over at his house. All of my past escapades have been rehashed. I've never done anything that I'm ashamed of, but it hurts to think they're talking me over like that at his house. What can I do to prove to them that I'm fit for their son to go with?"

I must say I think it's a bit indiscreet for your boy friend to tell you just how searching is the third degree he's getting on your behalf. Though you two have a relationship of complete trust and confidence — it wasn't necessary to spill the whole beans. His family's natural concern over the girl their son picks out to go steady with has prompted what they consider necessary questions. For they obviously don't know you very well.

So long as you remain their son's business only, you're not going to have much of a chance to make an impression on them. Stop worrying and let him handle the thing for you.

If you can meet them, however, and have one opportunity after another to be with them, you can go about providing your own worth. Not by explaining yourself with a lot of talk—but by just plain being a sweet, attractive, dependable girl whose every action and word shows that she has been well brought up. Your appearance, the tone of your voice, the things you laugh at, your appreciation for nice things and thoughtful gestures will tell more about you than you can ever tell yourself.

Your boy friend's pleasure in having you for his girl will make itself felt in his own home. His family will hear about the nice things you've said and done. His contentment and happiness in liking you will register favorably with his parents. That's the best publicity you can get.

So, instead of worrying about

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Your Birthday by STELLA

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9—Born today, you are so self-assured about everything that you are apt to get a little cocky unless you are careful. True, self-confidence is warranted, since you do have a great deal of strength of character and usually know exactly where you are going. But let others toot the horns! You will be more popular if you are a little more humble about what you can do.

You have terrific energy and appear to have never known what fear is. You will tackle anything, provided only it is something you are personally interested in. You are seldom interested in the warmed-over ideas presented by others. You have to be the instigator of the action. But once you have started something, you let nothing stand in your way of accomplishment. However, you may find it necessary to learn a little more cooperation with others if you are to reach what the world calls success—that is, if you acquire much material wealth. Start new jobs in March or November, for those seem to be your most productive periods.

An early marriage will probably bring you the highest degree of happiness, for to you a large family circle is one of the most important things in life. You have a magnetic personality and will probably have more than one romance before you select your marriage partner.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, January 10
CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — A wise choice today may set the pattern for future progress. Make exactly the right decision.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — You can really relax today and store up energy for the future. Seek spiritual guidance, if perplexed.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — There is a chance for accident if you are not especially careful while traveling. Stay alert, don't hurry.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — Attendance at the church of your choice should bring special pleasure today. Visit with friends.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Relax tensions. Rest physically and mentally and you will find that it pays in the long run.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — If you have been neglecting your church affiliations recently, this would be a good time to mend your habits.

CANCER (June 22-July 22) — In seeking recreational relaxation, don't neglect the spiritual side of your nature which is also very important.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23) — There are minor adverse tendencies which could result in an accident unless you are especially cautious.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Join a group of friends in some social event appropriate to the day. Expand your horizons.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — If you have been worried recently, probably your troubles are solved by now. So rest and relax tensions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Make this, literally, a "do nothing" day. See how fast your spirits revive under a little calculated business.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Devotional duties in the morning; a happy family dinner; and friends in to visit this afternoon make a rewarding day.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 10 — Born today you are a natural business executive. You know how to take care of large-scale planning; to delegate detail work to appropriate people; and how to get a good profit from your enterprise. You will find that Saturdays and Tuesdays are your best days for starting a project. Optimistically looking on the bright side of everything, your positive nature seems to attract success.

You have a magnetic personality and people are attracted to you wherever you go. You have a gregarious nature and are not happy unless you are surrounded by your friends. Do not try to live a solitary life for you will not be content. Wed at an early age. This will bring you emotional security and leave you free to embark upon your career activities without continual emotional turmoil.

You are mentally alert but sometimes your nervous energy exceeds your physical stamina. You are apt to burn your candle at both ends and unless you learn to have a setback in your health at some critical period in your life. Get as much outdoor exercise as you can. Don't cut your sleeping hours too short or you will have to pay up! Although you do your best work in urban environments where there is a lot of excitement, you should occasionally retreat to the country for rest and relaxation.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, January 11
CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — You can secure a powerful advantage today if you can overcome an undercurrent of resistance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Don't expect too much just now for this is a period devoted mainly to dull, but important routine.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — If a job needs doing, keep your mind on it and don't permit yourself to be distracted for an instant.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — Be careful or you must make important documents. Keep your wits about you. Be sharp!

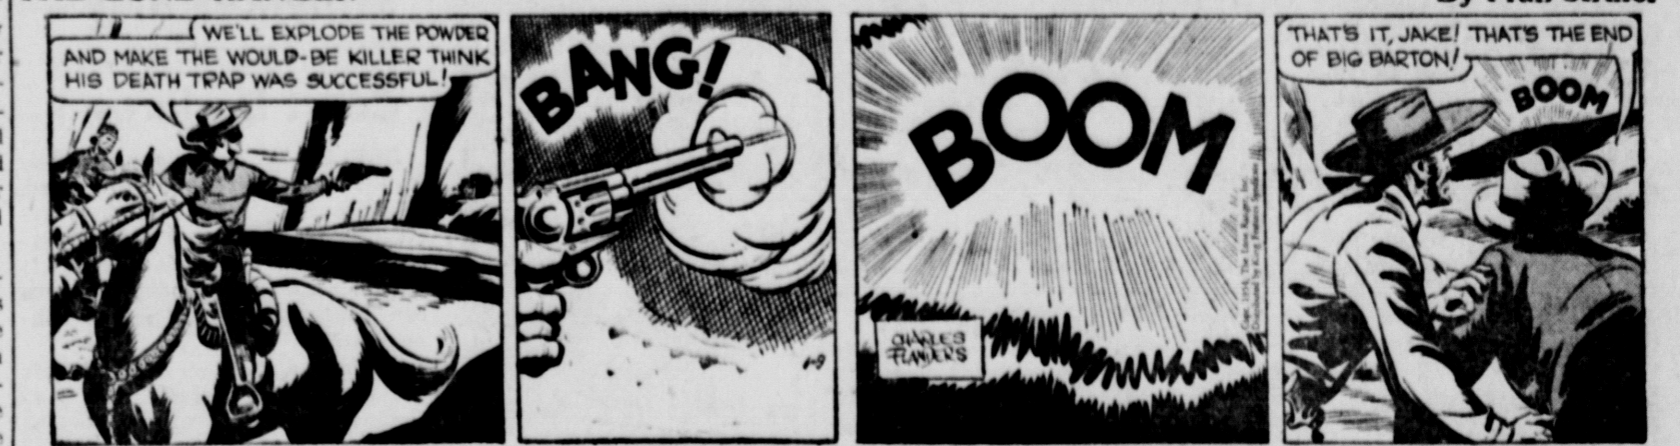

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Pay attention to intuition, but act only upon your more considered judgment. Combine the two for best results.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — If signing a contract, make sure that you read all the fine print. Be careful about all the details.

Looking Over Squad HQ

TWO AMBULANCES are poised at the entrance to The Bucks County Rescue Squad's Headquarters in Crofton. The Squad, a volunteer organization devoted to lifesaving in Lower Bucks County, is equipped with 3 ambulances, 1 mobile hospital unit, 1 emergency oxygen truck and 1 rescue truck.

INSIDE THE BUILDING—which contains a squad room, garage, office, first aid room, radio room and storage room—Mrs. Harry Eckert, Main street, Bath Addition, checks first aid equipment. The Squad has equipment on hand to cope with all types of emergencies.

A RESUSCITATOR and oxygen tent are available for emergencies requiring them. Driver Frank Wildman, 57 Rose Arbor lane, Levittown, makes adjustments to the precision equipment. The Squad, founded in 1932, has been serving the area for the past 22 years.

Grant 2 Divorces In Common Pleas

DOYLESTOWN — Judge Edward G. Biester in Common Pleas Court on Friday granted a divorce to a Carversville mother of three children and to a Newtown, Rd 1, matron.

Mrs. Helen R. Dailey, 37, of Carversville, was granted a divorce from Donald J. Dailey, 35, also of Carversville. They were married Nov. 26, 1946, in Mount Vernon, N.Y. They have three children, two girls and a boy, ranging in ages from two to five years.

Mrs. Dorothy R. Trockenbrod, 35, Newtown, Rd 1, was granted her freedom from Edward W. Trockenbrod, 39, whose last known address was 1928 Vermont avenue, Toledo, O. They were married March 16, 1952, in Trenton, N.J., by the Rev. Joseph M. Spang. They have one daughter.

WEEK-LONG OBSERVANCE

Oxford Valley Chapel Gets Start On Celebration of 50th Birthday

Oxford Valley Chapel, Lincoln highway, Langhorne, will begin a week-long celebration of its 55th anniversary tonight.

Terry Martin, chalk artist, will present a message at a special service at the church tonight. A student at Kings College, Delaware, he will illustrate his talk with chalk drawings.

Martin will speak at 11 a. m. service tomorrow and again at 8 p. m. tomorrow night.

Monday through Sunday evenings, the speaker will be Gurney M. Harris, founder of the U. S. Navy men's organization, the Navigators. He will also preach at morning service on Jan. 17.

The Oxford Valley Chapel, which is a community church, was dedicated for worship on Jan. 8, 1899. Five members of today's congregation were present at the original dedication.

They are Andrew Hibbs and the Misses E. Mildred Spencer, Laura Rue, Lily Rue, Mary D. Nowell and Henrietta Nowell.

The membership of the chapel today is about 70 and it is continuing to grow. According to Rev. Philip Weiss, pastor: "An overcrowded Sunday school and church with inadequate parking facilities make a larger building a must."

Mr. Weiss has been pastor at the chapel for eight years. He, his wife and their son, Philip, live just outside of Langhorne.

Plans Announced For B'nai B'rith

A B'nai B'rith Lodge is being established in Levittown to serve Lower Bucks County, according to Samuel J. Aronowitz, 6 Learning lane.

"We are now in the process of organizing our lodge," Aronowitz said. "We know that B'nai B'rith really serves and we are confident that most Jewish men will want to join with us once they know the B'nai B'rith story."

Aronowitz said that plans for a membership drive in this area will coincide with the 110th anniversary of the B'nai B'rith. He urged all men interested in the organization to call him.

TAKEN TO NAZARETH

Mrs. Marie Reynolds, of 521 Maple street, Bristol, was taken to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, last night, by Bucks County Rescue Squad.

Ex-Guardsman Wins Point On His Prison Term

Sentences May Run Together, Court Declares

DOYLESTOWN—Nelson Roy Belford, 22, 543 Overbrook Grove road, Roxborough, who appeared in Quarter Sessions Court on Friday for reconsideration of sentence, had his second sentence amended so as to run concurrently instead of consecutively.

Belford, a former Pennsylvania National Guard sergeant of a Norristown company, was sentenced Sept. 11, 1953, to serve not less than nine months nor more than two years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

He pleaded guilty to robbing the Sel-Perk Ford Co. garage, Quakertown, first on June 7, 1952, and the second time on Jan. 8, 1953.

Hot-Rodders' Equipment

At the first robbery in 1952 about $1628.45 worth of parts, hot-rodgers' equipment and other articles were stolen by Belford and a partner who hasn't been apprehended as yet because he is in one of the armed forces.

The second robbery was committed Jan. 8, 1953, with Ronald Frederick Ford, Swarthmore, and Daw-illa L. Schlesman, near Norristown, both of whom are now serving time in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

More than $3,000 worth of high-speed parts were stolen.

President Judge Hiram H. Keller sentenced the trio Sept. 11, 1953, to serve not less than nine months nor more than two years.

Appeared in Court

On December 15, 1953, Belford appeared in criminal court here to be sentenced for the first robbery which he took part in on June 7, 1952. He was sentenced to serve not less than six months nor more than two years which was to run consecutively to the sentence imposed in September.

"Several officials of the penitentiary and others interested in your rehabilitation have joined in requesting that the Court reconsider amending your second sentence to run concurrently with the first one rather than consecutively," President Judge Keller said.

Donald B. Smith, Perkassie, counsel for Belford, whose wife expects a baby next month, said: "This defendant has learned a lesson. The State Police told me that Belford cooperated with them in getting the stolen parts and he even volunteered the information concerning the first robbery. The fines and costs of prosecution have been paid and Belford has been writing with Sell-Perk garage officials concerning making restitution of the equipment stolen."

Belford, who is serving his sentence at Graterford, assured the Court that he will never see the inside of a courtroom again.

It was the last day of the term for President Judge Keller to do the re-sentencing because a Grand Jury meets on Monday and begins another term of court.

Aero Bugs Busy, To Hold Meeting Wednesday Night

There's a new kind of bug growing in Levittown—and it's increasing in numbers, too.

The Levittown Aero Bugs, a club being organized to further the building and flying of model airplanes in the Levittown area, has invited interested members of all ages to attend its meeting at 7:30 Wednesday night. The group will make plans at that time to conduct a fund drive.

Thirteen members already in the club include John Gorbek, Pat Ward, David Pleavo, Paul Pleavo, Jim Buck, George Friedrich, Pete Lavizzoli, Gregg Muschitz, Grant Muschitz, Danny Schien, Tommy Thompson, Steve Szabo, and Louis Klien.

George Cox, 18 Locust lane, is adviser. Model airplane enthusiasts, interested in joining, should contact Paul Pleavo at W16-4145 or John Gorbek, W16-7562.

Relax Now, Folks, and Watch The Birdie

THE SUMMER OF 1901 may have been just as warm as 1953, but gentlemen wore coats in those days regardless of the temperature. This picture was taken in front of the Delaware House, which still stands at the corner of Mill street and Radcliffe street. The dignified cop at the left is Tone Tice, leaning against the tree is John Rushford. Next to him is Mathias Stroble, then the owner of the Delaware House. Standing in the background near the window, and wearing the long dark tie, is Stedman Lincoln. In the doorway is George Summerfield. Next to him, on the right, are Richard Wedge and Thomas Lawrence. Others in the picture are unidentified.

Pacing The Labor Beat

News of local unions and their members will be welcomed by the COURIER. Address all communications to the Labor Editor, The BRISTOL COURIER, Bristol, Penna.

As the jurisdiction of New York Port dockers continued under dispute by two International Longshoremen Associations, the AFL-ILA and independent ILA, five Philadelphia officials of the independent unit were indicted on charges of extorting $28,700 from a sugar company. A New York official of the same union was also indicted.

The Philadelphia defendants are James T. Moock, 56, a vice-president of the ILA Atlantic Coast District and a local organizer; Henry G. Varlack, 38, and Samuel Kavalas, 44, delegates of ILA Local 1291; Clifford Carter, 55, Local 1332 delegate and organizer, and Lawrence Wagner, 42, shop steward of Local 1291.

With David Roche, ILA Legislative Representative, 42, of New York, the Philadelphians are accused of extorting a total of $36,200 from the American Sugar Refining Co.

The ALF yesterday said it would shut down New York Port if the independent ILA should strike. Ace M. Keeny, executive director of the AFL-ILA, made the statement in reply to reports that the independent unit may walk out if it is not declared winner of the bargaining rights election.

Such a strike, Keeny said, would be a "lockout" and the result of a conspiracy between the employers and the mob-controlled ILA.

Increasing layoffs over the nation, with fears of a recession, continued today.

The CIO declared today that the administration should launch immediately a many-sided program to head off a "spreading recession."

The labor organization insisted that Congress should quickly enact tax relief, improved social security, unemployment compensation and minimum wage plans, and farm, public works and housing measures to bolster employment and worker income.

CIO Vice-President Emil Rieve, chairman of the Economic Policy Committee, said that, in addition to the recent rise in unemployment, 700,000 jobs have disappeared in the last year. Under normal national growth, he added, the number of jobs should have increased by that figure.

At least 12,000 Detroit auto workers face layoffs and a two-month forecast by the Michigan Employment Security Commission said 95,000 will be idled by the end of next month.

Today's layoffs affect workers at Chrysler's Plymouth division and the Hudson Motor Car Company. They are the result of production cutbacks.

Plymouth workers will be idled indefinitely while Hudson said its workers would be recalled Jan. 20. No reason was given for the Hudson layoffs.

A Quick Look: The Red Arrow Bus Lines, serving suburban Philadelphia, and Local 267, of the CIO Transport Workers Union, bargaining agent for its employees.

PUT OUT GRASS FIRE

Firemen of Bristol Consolidated and No. 3 companies put out a grass fire in an alley between Locust and Linden streets yesterday.

have been sent a list of ten nominees for arbitrator in a labor dispute, the American Arbitration Association announced today. Some 240 maintenance workers in the transit company had threatened to walk out at midnight New Year's Eve, but agreed to submit to arbitration. . . . Settlement of the seven-week-old Sharp and Dohme Division strike, tying up three Philadelphia area plants, appears in sight. Management will meet with representatives of Local 86, CIO United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers, in a conference arranged by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. . . . Last week, nationwide claims for unemployment insurance rose 19.4 per cent, according to the Labor Department.

Call 4 In Inquiry Into Tullytown Street Shooting

Four principals in the arrest of two men for shooting out street lights on Tullytown's Main street early Oct. 24 have been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury Tuesday.

Served with subpoenas to appear in the trial of John Zuchero, 2213 Cedar street, Edgely, and Robert J. Frink, 33 Openwood lane, Levittown, are Police Chief John Walterick; Constable J. W. Kratz; William Harth, former police officer and Edward Bergmann, secretary of the borough civil service commission.

Walterick, Kratz and Harth seized Zuchero and Frink on East Main street, after Bergmann, hearing shots fired in front of his home, called police. The three officers, following a trail of broken glass and darkened lights, said they found the two men shooting.

Police said Zuchero and Frink shot out the lights while driving east on Main street and that a 22-calibre rifle and 32-calibre revolver were in their car. The men were released on bail after a hearing in Fallsington before Justice of the Peace John Melvin.

DOGGY BUSINESS

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Checkers, the black and white cocker spaniel which is the family pet of the Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, is a mother. The year-and-a-half old dog gave birth to five black and white puppies Wednesday night.

500 Turn Out To Raise Protests

of Fallsington whose land had been proposed for R-2 zoning, said the land was largely swampy and unsuitable for residential purposes. He said the owners would rather have it zoned for light industry and presented a petition to the board worded to that effect.

Mrs. Terry Sorin, 4 Teaberry lane, Levittown, said she and others polled more than 900 women in Levittown. "Their conclusion was that if smoke and noxious odors were to affect three sections of the project, it would certainly affect other sections. Her suggestion was that mining and light industry be curretailed on the border of the area."

Favors Commercial

Robert Hoffman, representing property owners whose land is concentrated in an area bordered by Fairless Hills and Middletown Township, felt that ground now zoned residential should be changed to commercial.

Philip Jones, Morrisville, and Nelson Finch, New York City, representing the Dell-Penn Realty Co., felt that a 400-foot strip along Route 1, bounded by Hulmeville road and Pennsylvania avenue, property owners on a track southeast zoned as commercial, should get at least another 300 feet on each side of the route under that rating. Finch said, as of now, the rating would prohibit parking facilities and a setback for buildings.

Samuel Snipes, speaking for himself and other farmers with land north of Route 1, felt that a more natural use for that land would be residential, preferably industry of some sort.

H. Shermehorn, Tyburn road, Falls Township, suggested that an amusement clause be shifted from Article 8 to Article 6, "because it didn't seem to fit well in a mining and light industry area."

These and many other complaints and suggestions were offered, affecting practically every corner of Falls Township. There were several suggestions, delivered in the form of speeches to spectators, demanding the junking of the entire zoning code "because it isn't needed and we've got along well enough without one so far." There were also demonstrations for the code. Board members said they will give each suggestion careful consideration.

Several members of the group felt that all questions, about past activities as well as present, should be answered. Others said the teachers invoked the fifth amendment because they did not want to incriminate others or did not feel they had to answer about past associations. In the legal sense, Berkes said, the teachers' refusal was legitimate, but no definite conclusion about this matter was reached by the group.

Venezuelan Ore Starts Trip Today

Carrying the first cargo of Venezuelan ore past Bristol to the U.S. Steel Fairless Works on Jan. 19, El Cerro Bolivar Day, will be the Swedish motorship, Tosca, sailing today from Puerto Ordaz, Venezuela.

Bristol will greet the Tosca as she passes the borough shore on the Delaware River, the advent of 2,000,000 tons U.S. Steel will ship here from Venezuela this year, and climax of a $100,000,000 construction program in that South American country.

El Cerro Bolivar Day, honoring the site of the steel firm's ore mines, was proclaimed by Burgess Anthony Niccol. The burgess will attend ceremonies of the Delaware River Port Authority.

Report Mellons Wary of Battle In GOP Primary

Rumors Say They Are Ready To Withhold Funds

HARRISBURG (INS) — Reports were current at Harrisburg today that a key source of Republican campaign funds will withhold contributions if that is the only way to forestall a bitter GOP primary fight.

The source is identified in two unrelated camps as the Mellon dynasty in Pittsburgh. Senator James H. Duff, of Carnegie, has been identified politically with the Mellons for many years.

The two GOP groups circulating the story insist the intent is to serve notice on Duff not to go after the party gubernatorial nomination again, because it would spark internecine strife.

Duff Is Silent

Duff has made no statement of his political plans.

The story is being told by men suggesting former Lt. Gov. Daniel B. Strickler, of Lancaster, for the gubernatorial nod, as well as those aligned with Gov. John S. Fine in their search for a harmony candidate.

Duff benefitted from Mellon campaign contributions in 1946 when he ran for governor and in 1950 when he won his Senate seat.

1950 Wounds Live

The story bears out reports from other Pittsburgh and Philadelphia Republicans that a costly primary fight must be avoided this year.

The 1950 primary battle between supporters of the Duff-Fine ticket and backers of the Kunkel-Cooke slate has left a deep imprint on the Pennsylvania GOP.

Republicans searching for harmony with a gubernatorial candidate acceptable to all factions have invited Duff to a pow-wow this weekend or next week.

Hear Discussion Of Civil Rights

Raise Teacher Issue At Meeting

Civil rights and the fifth amendment to the Constitution in relation to the recent investigation of the loyalty of a group of Philadelphia school teachers, was the topic of a talk by Milton Berkes last night, at a meeting of the adult education committee of Temple Shalom, Reform Jewish Congregation of Levittown. The group met at the Delhaas High School.

Following a film entitled, "The Bill of Rights," Berkes discussed the investigation of the teachers from a legal viewpoint.

The "old" American principle that a person is innocent until proven guilty, Berkes said, was one of the many tenets violated. Other rights violated, he added, were that the witnesses, in the government's investigation, did not face their accusers. The burden of proof of innocence was on the accused, he said, rather than the burden of proof of guilt being on the accuser and the accused was not permitted to cross-examine.

In the discussion period following the talk, the question of whether the teachers did the right thing in not answering about past affiliations, involving the period of time before they took the state-required loyalty oath, provoked a heated discussion, both pro and con.

Several members of the group felt that all questions, about past activities as well as present, should be answered. Others said the teachers invoked the fifth amendment because they did not want to incriminate others or did not feel they had to answer about past associations. In the legal sense, Berkes said, the teachers' refusal was legitimate, but no definite conclusion about this matter was reached by the group.
